

GENDER EQUITY IN CANCER CARE SURVEY FOR HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

Thank you for your interest in the Gender Equity in Cancer Care Research Project.

Women's Health Victoria has commissioned Impact Co., an independent research company, to undertake research into the impact of gender on women (cis and trans), trans men and gender diverse people's experiences of cancer care. Women's Health Victoria is a statewide not-for-profit organisation working toward gender equity in health.

Your unique experiences and insights within the Victorian context are really important for putting together a picture of the system from a practitioner's perspective and for identifying where there might be gaps or opportunities to improve the quality of care that patients receive. We are conducting a separate survey with women (cis and trans), trans men and gender diverse people with lived and living experience of cancer to get their perspectives as well.

Your responses will be treated as confidential and will only be viewed by the Impact Co. research team. Your information will never be attributed to you directly and will be presented only as themes.
